IT'S THE "YEAR OF THE DOG" according to the Chinese, and Delilah, a Borner Collie, Australian Shepherd cross is overwhelmed at the prospect of helping with the Red Cross Fund Drive. Jeanne Kanevski, MPC student gives Delilah instructions while Taurus, who is furnishing the transportation, takes it all in.

STORY AND PHOTOS

BY JODY COOPER

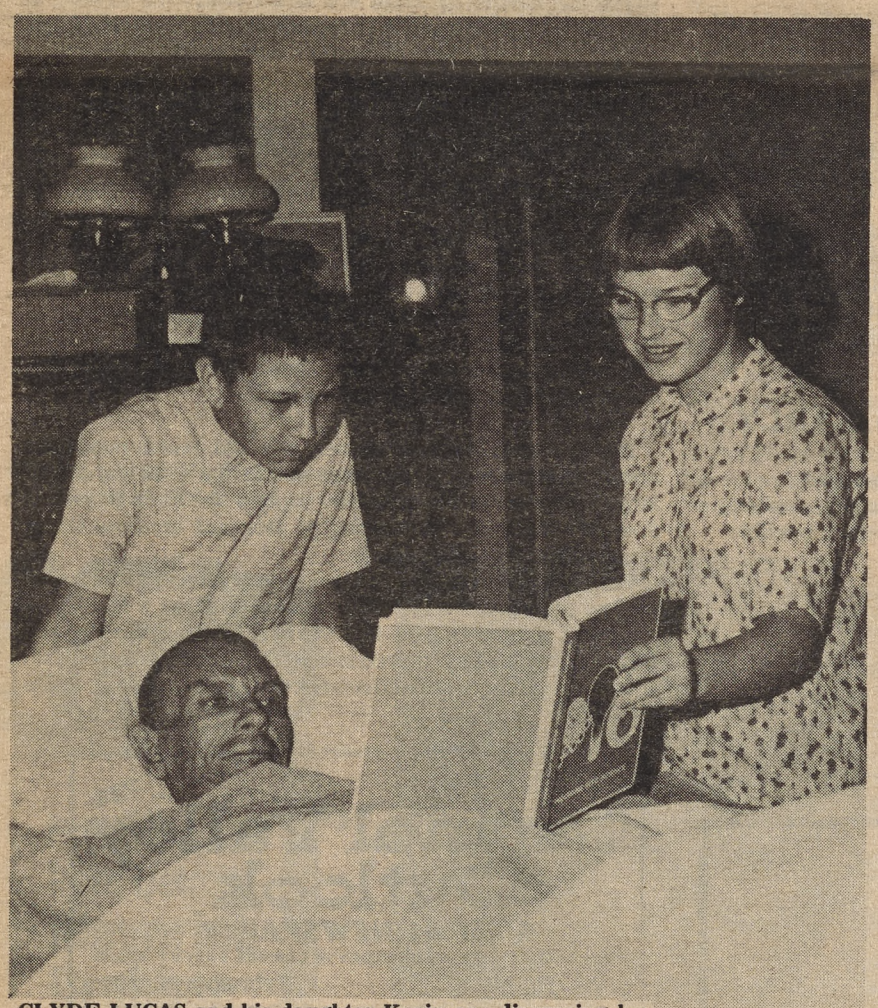
"CHAMP", Lou Allaire gives Mrs. Thos. McKiernon an enthusiastic hug as she tells him that his name heads the top of the C.V. Honor Roll for C.V. blood donors with 5 gallons, 7 pints of blood. He has made 47 trips to the Bloodmobile.

DRIVE FOR FUNDS WILL BE HELD DURING MARCH ...

Red Cross is many things to many people

PEOPLE CARING ... Volunteers rushing blood to the medical center for open heart surgery, children learning to swim, Christmas bags for American Servicemen in Vietnam, a new look toward helping people help themselves, a G.I. learning of the birth of his son, a nurse caring for a diabetic in a disaster. That's Red Cross.

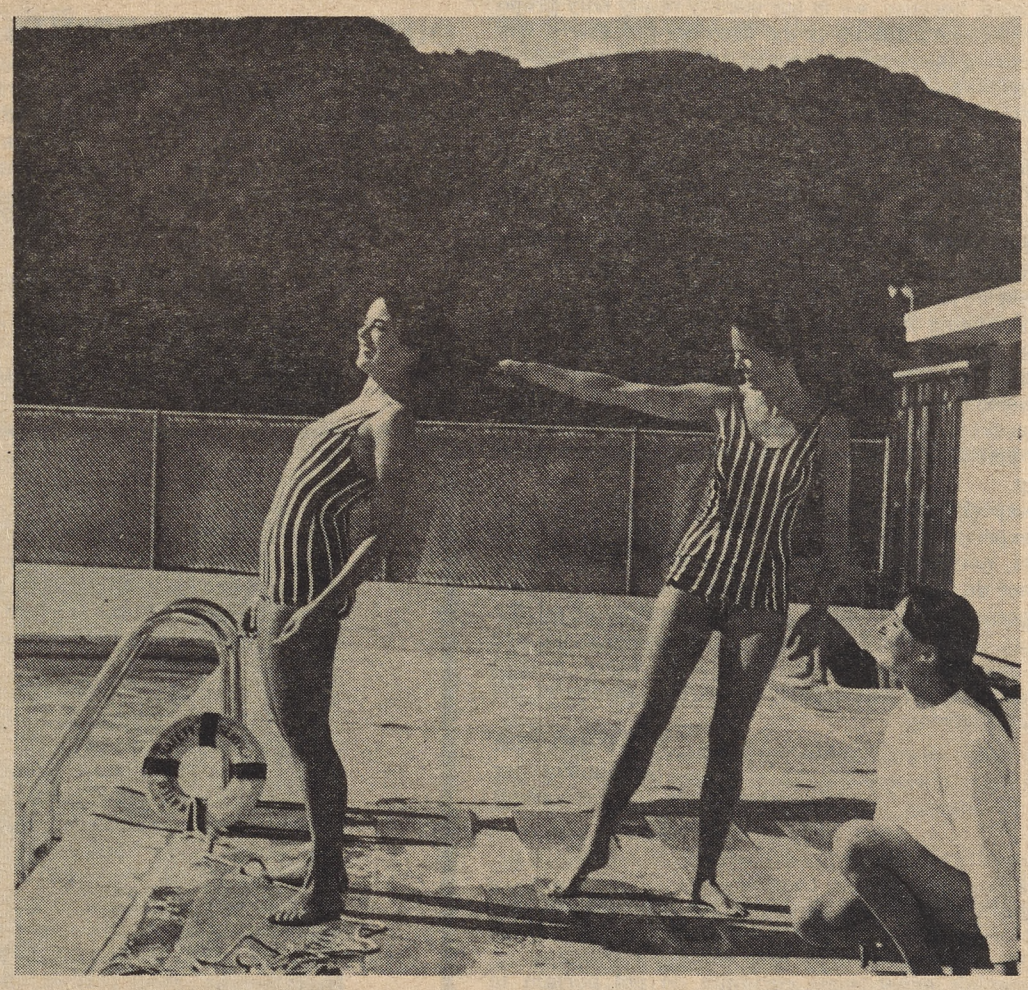
1863 was the year Red Cross was established in Switzerland by Henri Dunat, a businessman whose whole idea was to help his fellow man. International Red Cross headquarters is still located in Switzerland and the work visualized by the founder is being carried on all over the world. Today, the Carmel Chapter with the aid of 400 volunteers and one paid, fulltime worker, Executive Secretary, Miss Dorothy James, Red Cross work is being carried out on the local scene. A drive for funds will be held during the month of March.



CLYDE LUCAS and his daughter Karin are discussing her Science homework while Bernd, his son, stands ready to give a few suggestions. In 1945 "Luke", a demolitions expert with the 102nd Infantry division, was injured by shrapnel from a mortar shell and has been paralyzed from the shoulders down for 25 years. While a patient in a hospital he met Mary, his physical therapist, they fell in love and were married. In spite of Luke's disability they have lived an active life with Karin and Bernd, adopted from Germany, and their horses, Rottweiler dogs and cats. Being in a wheelchair was no reason to stay at home so the family made many camping trips plus seven crosscountry trips toMichigan to visit relatives -- the last trip pulling their 26 ft. trailer.

Mary says, "We are so grateful to the Red Cross and all the kind people who have given blood to replace what Luke has used." She is also full of praise for the Red Cross Ambulance crew.

"Living here on C.V. Road we have reported several accidents on this spot and it's amazing how fast the ambulance gets here -- sometimes while the siren is still sounding. I believe it gives Valley people a feeling of security to have the rescue crew and the ambulance right here."



RED CROSS WATER SAFETY instructor Mrs. Robt. Oross, right, is teaching Mrs. Gregory Aeschliman, left, and Mrs. Jonathan Storm the "Hair Carry", a life saving technique used when the victim is unconscious. The rescuer swims the side stroke and pulls the person through the water by the hair. What if the victim hasn't enough hair? Then the "Head Carry", another technique is used.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Outlook:

The Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club wishes to extend apologies to its neighbors for the considerable amount of smoke involved in our spring clean up and landscaping program. We are very sorry if anyone was inconvenienced.

A stock-pile of shredded plant material which was destined for use as a soil conditioner and mulch for planting trees and shrubs and developing grass turf from sandy river soil was accidentally ignited from a small pile of brush being burned. This is a great loss to our club as the material was carefully saved over quite a period of time for that purpose.

When it became apparent that the fire would last beyond the time allowed on the burning permit the Forestry Service Fire Department was consulted and they gave us very courteous and helpful advice on keeping the smoke nuisance to a minimum until the fire could be extinguished. Several men from the club stood by all night and on Sunday until this was accomplished.

The Trail and Saddle Club, in addition to its very effective programs for the youth of the community is dedicated to preservation and enjoyment of our outdoor resources and has tried to keep improvements of the Club property in line with the beauty of our natural Valley surroundings. Since much of this program depends upon voluntary contributions of time by its busy members, progress is slow but one day when completed we will have the satisfaction of having added to the beauty of our lovely Carmel Valley.

Sincerely,
R.E. ANGELL, Chairman
Buildings and Grounds Committee

Dear Editor:

Mr. and Mrs. Mink's recent letter expresses my feelings as a parent of four children attending Tularcitos School. Yet in another way, the letter helps to ease a gnawing feeling in my entire being. This feeling stems from the fact that I am also a teacher at this school, one who takes pride in the notion that I and the rest of the staff are extremely dedicated to children and the environment in which they live. Whatever may motivate the other two letters is extremely upsetting to me. I can not see how they can convey anything more than agitation.

I would request the indulgence of the reader, and may he permit me to regress to my own childhood and schooling. For four years I was in an extremely unhappy period of life. It was not until I was chronologically promoted into the fifth grade that I began to read. My security and well-being stemmed from two of the finest people I most deeply respect and love - my parents, and to my early teachers who patiently struggled to help me. Never was there a disparaging remark uttered or written. Today I am a college graduate with a B.S. from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. I have done post graduate work at four colleges in California, graduate work at the University of Missouri under a National Science grant and have completed a masters degree program successfully from Indiana University through the assistance of a scholarship awarded me by the National Science foundation.

After 21 years of schooling and ten years of teaching, I am still frustrated, because, we in our society really only grope blindly at what we all think is the learning process. It has only been during the past two years that I have really become alive and excited at what I sincerely believe to be a ray of sunlight into the educational process. This has occurred at Tularcitos, where "meet the child's needs" is not just an educational cliche. For the first time I really feel a large number of children are excited about learning. So much so, that the children are no longer passively quiescent, but openly active and vociferous. This change has been taking place gradually as both the staff and children learn together. New and old ways are being blended and true, the obsolete practices are being discarded. An example of the discarded practice is the practice so often used where every child, despite his ability, is tightly lock-stepped to the same place in the same book. It is exhilarating to see and hear fourth grade children working with seventh and eighth grade material. And it is just as rewarding to see less capable children succeeding.

Iam no expert and I still have much to learn. However, my personal experiences have led me to one conclusion. No two individuals, not even identical twins, learn in the same manner, nor do they learn at the same rate. I am positive that I express this conclusion as representative of all the teachers at Tularcitos School. As a consequence we are diligently spending long, long hours to achieve a goal whereby all children will eagerly await the opening of the school each morning.

Dear Editor,

We stand behind the fine quality of the teachers and Mr. Gustafson at Tularcitos. We have found there complete understanding and consideration with our two children.

Some people's experiences certainly do not pertain to everyone. There are bound to be pros and cons. It has been our observation that pro is the opinion of the very large majority.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,

Since we've been living here (3 years) we've been hearing the same complaints about Tularcitos School. The basic complaint seems to be that the methods used now aren't the same as the parents had when they were in elementary school. From what I've seen the old methods might not have been the greatest, so who is to say that the newer methods aren't better? It seems to me there is a great resistance to change!

Another complaint is the lack of homework for the elementary school children. I didn't have any significant homework until after entering high school and I think that is soon enough! Some people think that little children should be miniature adults and not have any free time to play or do absolutely nothing except to be young. At one parents meeting I attended, we were informed that the school day would not be as long as in the past. One mother present said she would have to find more music or dancing lessons for her daughter "to keep her busy." I think this mother, like others, is trying to cheat her daughter out of her childhood!

Some of our very good friends are amoung the complainers, but in this case I can't agree with them. After comparing some of the work by my 2nd grade son, who isn't exceptional, with that done by a 3rd grader at another school, it seems to me that Tularcitos School is a year ahead since the work was virtually identical.

Sincerely,
VICTOR HARBER

More on Dogs! Dogs! Dogs!

We would like to commend and add our voice to Mrs. Wolf's comments of last week on the irresponsibility of some dog owners in the Valley to keep their animals at HOME!

It is so unfair for those dog owners who do go to considerable expense to provide runs or expensive fencing to properly care for their animals to prevent them from becoming a menace to motorists and other property owners, to suffer molestation, noise and annoyances from those irresponsible owners who disregard their responsibility.

It might also be pointed out, as Mrs. May has so often said, that it is unfair to the animal to expose it to eventually being run over by a car (incidentally, perhaps, injuring perfectly innocent motorists) or being shot by someone whose patience is exhausted trying to reason with a stupid owner. If they have no pride in trying to be a good neighbor, respecting other's property & privacy, then some more drastic recourse should be available, without the animal's life being endangered.

It's time something was done about this inexcusable imposition of dog-barking at all hours and "dog-roaming" on people's property here in the Valley.

THE DAM

Flood, cover the soul of earth,
Whose entrails spoke men
Sprouted from within, animals
Born in the hush of nature.
Each one staulking, running,
Hiding, soaring.
Laughter from the young tumbling
Through the brush, straining
Bright eyes to see the hawk fly to nest.
Or silence, watching the game, feel
Its pounding heart with your own.
Flood it all, bury the green, softness
Of Spring, kill the buds, forever to lie
Beneath the depths of still water.
Tear the playground and pulse from the Young warrior of time growing to manhood
Treading the hidden tracks of those before him,
His father, his father's father, all having Walked a part of it, etched in their hands the Raw earth.
Bury it all, marching time leaves only the aching
Heart to tremble, and the naked soul to search.

WILDLIFE OF MONTEREY COUNTY ...

THE CALIFORNIA MOUNTAIN LION

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles about wildlife native to Carmel Valley and the adjacent area. Mr. Golden, who lives on Sage Road in Carmel Valley, is the local Fish and Game Warden for the State of California.)

BY LESTER GOLDEN

Mountain lions occur in the coast range mountains of Monterey County, generally at higher elevations in the Transition life zone. Spectacularly large, this member of the cat family will measure from six to eight feet in length including the tail, and may weigh from 100 pounds in the adult female to as much as 200 pounds in the adult male.

Like the wolf, this mysterious and altogether fascinating animal has been maligned and demeaned for generations due to a bad reputation handed down by early settlers. Because it sometimes killed livestock they branded it an enemy to be killed at every opportunity. Because it is known to kill deer, early conservationists branded it an enemy to the deer of California.

In 1907 Organized Sportsmen's groups and Livestock Associations sponsored legislation providing for payment of bounties for the killing of mountain lions in this state, a practice that prevailed up to as recently as May, 1967. Monterey County Supervisors discontinued payment of the county bounty shortly thereafter. The last $50 payment by the county was made to one D.C. Lugert on November 13, 1967.

The name Mountain Lion was adopted for designateion of this species by the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology, University of California, although it has been tabbed with many other names such as Puma, Cougar, California Lion, Panther, Painter and others. The mountain lion is distinguished from all other large cats of North America by its lack of spots.

Actually the lion is relatively harmless, almost never known to attack man; rarely preys on domestic stock even though an occasional individual lion will develop a taste for pork or horsemeat and have to be destroyed. Reports of cattle killed by lions invariably prove false while the real depredators turn out to be packs of marauding renegade dogs.

The diet of the mountain lion is not restricted to deer or other large animals and may include rabbits, rats and mice, squirrels, coyotes and even skunks. Like most wild animals they eat what is most readily available. Lions hunt their prey during daylight hours almost as much as at night but are seldom seen by man. They exercise great stealth and take advantage of their protective coloration so effectively that you might look directly at one in the forest without seeing him at all.

They benefit the deer herd by killing mostly the young, the infirm or sickly and the very old animals, thus helping to maintain a healthy balance. The mountain lion is fast enough to catch a fleeing deer in a few bounds and strong enough to dispatch it instantly by either breaking the neck with a single blow with massive forepaw or to sever the spinal cord with one powerful bite in the back of the neck.

The mountain lion is extremely shy and avoids populated areas, so you are not apt to see one in the back yard. The large footprints in the driveway or near the back fence are probably those of a wandering St. Bernard or some Great Dane rather than lion tracks.

These big cats are fairly rare now in Monterey County and will be protected by the State of California as a Big Game Mammal after July 1 of this year. A hunting lidense and SPecial Tag will be required to hunt them and it is hoped they will enjoy the same protection afforded other big game of the state.

BRANSON SAYS CACHAGUA SHOULD BE 'LAST CHOICE' ...

TO STUDY ALL SOURCES TO MEET AREA'S WATER NEEDS

County Supervisor Willard T. Branson said last week that Cachagua Valley should be considered the "last choice" location for a future dam on the Carmel River.

"We have to make absolutely certain we go to the best site," Branson said. "I think we have to exhaust every possible source for our water supply and for a dam site before deciding to flood out the Cachagua."

Branson said his own hope is that Monterey County can arrange to draw water from the proposed Arroyo Seco dam in about 15 years. If these future water needs are assured, he said, then the California American Water Company would probably decide to build a smaller dam, not in the Cachagua, to supply the extra water the county will need until then.

Branson's comments came following a meeting of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors in which a 15-year plan for water, sewer and drainage facilities for Carmel Valley and Carmel Highlands was discussed.

The report was prepared by Neill Engineers and Hahn, Wise & Associates, a planning firm from San Carlos. The report recommended that the water company should continue the "full utilization" of the Carmel River.

It pinpointed the Syndicate camp area in Cachagua Valley as a likely dam site, but noted that there are "several other sites that should be investigated."

Attorney Sean Flavin also appeared before the supervisors, and turned over petitions signed by several hundred people opposing any dam in the Cachagua area.

Flavin heads a committee of Cachagua property owners which is seeking a way to meet the county's urgent need for more water without washing away homes and self-supporting ranches.

Flavin argued that the Carmel River is "bearing more than its share" of meeting water needs. As alternatives he suggested included getting water from the San Luis or Arroyo Seco dams, the reclamation of sewage water or desalinazation of ocean water.

"We are the first to recognize that most important are the water needs of the community," he told the supervisors, "but there are other considerations that must be kept sight of: ground water levels, salt water intrusion at the mouth of the Carmel Valley, fish propogation and the effect on the ecology of the valley."

WATER FROM ARROYO SECO?

Flavin said later that he has arranged to meet with Branson, Board chairman Loren E. Smith and Loran Bunte, Jr., engineer for the Monterey County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, to look further into the possibility of getting water from Arroyo Seco.

He also hopes to meet with officials of Comsat soon to enlist their support in the battle to save Cachagua Valley.

Branson said after the meeting that he is not very optimistic about Monterey County's chances of getting more water from the San Luis dam, which is part of the California Water Project.

"So many big cities have their eye on that water," he said, "I'm afraid if we staked our future on that, we might wind up short of water."

At present, Monterey and Santa Cruz counties have been allocated 17,000 acre feet from San Luis, and approval would have to be given by many political jurisdictions before the amount could be increased.

Branson said he also doubts that sewage reclamation could be a logical alternative to a new dam.

"First, there's too great a time differential. A project that vast would take 8 to 10 years to get off the ground, and we have't got that much time," he explained.

He said that areas now reclaiming sewage water are not using it for ordinary household use because of "an understandable psychological reluctance."

He also suggested that any area-wide sewage disposal and reclamation plan should include Santa Cruz County.

"It wouldn't make much sense just to clean up the southern half of the bay and then have their sewage floating down to Monterey County," he said.

All of this, he said, is "too cumbersome and too involved" for anyone to rely upon it for the Peninsula's water supply anytime in the near future.

UNIQUE DOGS WITH AN EXOTIC, FASCINATING HISTORY ...

First litter of Tibetan Terriers in Carmel Valley

BY PAT GRIFFITH

CUDDLY LITTLE Tibetan terrier puppy. A rare breed, these pups are worth $200 to $300.

- Photo by George T.C. Smith

In the doggy world of Carmel Valley, a newcomer isn't likely to make much of an impact. St. Bernards, poodles, German shepherds and innumerable mixtures are as common as foxtails, and anything much smaller than a basset hound is apt to have trouble getting recognition in the neighborhood.

But it's just possible that an armload of fluffy pups on Dorris Drive is about to change all that.

What they lack in size, which is considerable, they make up for in exotic background and uniqueness. They can claim distinction as Carmel Valley's first litter of Tibetan terriers, a modest honor for a rare breed whose history stretches back over 2000 years.

Tibetan terriers, which look like mini-Old English Sheep Dogs, are the Holy dogs of Tibet. For centuries they were raised by lamas in monasteries, and have never been for sale in that country.

The shaggy little dogs were sometimes given to a visiting dignitary as a gift, or presented as a token of great gratitude. Because they were considered good luck in Tibet, they were also given to people about to go on long and dangerous trips in order to insure a safe journey.

When the communists overran Tibet, the terriers' good luck came to an abrupt end. Most of the dogs were killed for food. Only the fact that some gift dogs had been taken to England, and later imported into the United States, saved the breed from extinction.

There are now about 300 Tibetan terriers in the United States, including "Pirate" and "Trish" and their seven offspring in Carmel Valley.

"In Tibet these dogs were called 'Little People,'" explains their owner, Dr. L.A. Holine. "They are really unhappy if they aren't with people."

That explains why Trish has a part-time job as a receptionist at Dr. Holine's office in the Village, whenever his wife, Virginia, is there assisting him.

When the Holines moved to Carmel Valley in 1968, they had another male Tibetan terrier, "Bu". But a month after the family arrived, "Bu" died of a heart attack.

"Apparently the move was too traumatic for him," Dr. Holine says.

"Bu" was later replaced by "Pirate", a sturdy 25 pounds of pure white fluff. Two of the pups in the litter are all white like their father, and the rest are black and white.

The Holines plan to wait at least another week, when the puppies will be 8 weeks old, before selling any of them. They have already had people coming from Oakland and Santa Clara to see the rare litter.

They will keep one of the white pups for a show dog. Although the breed has not yet been officially recognized by the American Kennel Club, it is shown regularly under the "miscellaneous dogs" category at AKC-sanctioned shows.

SIERRA CLUB TO SPONSOR PUBLIC FORUM ON DAMS

The Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club will sponsor a public hearing on Monterey County's water needs and the pros and cons of various dam locations on Thursday, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. in Brey Hall of Carmel High School.

A Sierra Club spokesman said the organization has not yet taken an official stand on the question of a new dam in Carmel Valley, but wants to present all information available at a public forum.

Among those invited to appear as a panel of experts are County Supervisors Willard Branson and Loren E. Smith; Sean Flavin, chairman of the Cachagua Citizens' Committee; Loran Bunte, Jr., engineer for the Monterey County Flood Control and Water Conservation District; oceanographer Edward Thornton; and David Fiscus, division manager of the California American Water Company.

Each expert will give a brief presentation, and then the panel will be open to direct questions from the audience.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

BY MILDRED HATTAN 659—2468

IN THE WORDS of Robert Browning, "It was roses, roses, all the way," when the Carmel Valley Lionettes invited wives of the C.V. Lion's Club members to join them for their annual work session at the home of Ruth and Bill Stowers to create the colorful paper floral decorations which have made the annual "WINE AND ROSES BALL" famous. Ladies arrived on Country Club Drive early in the morning with sack lunches and worked until late afternoon making enough roses to cover the billiard table in the Stowers party room and to refurbish the large rose ball which traditionally hangs from the center of the ball room.

"EVERYTHING'S COMIN' UP ROSES" when C.V. Lionettes and Lion's Club wives combine tissue paper, deft fingers and talent to fashion the traditional decor for the "Wine and Roses Ball" sponsored annually by their husbands. (Left to right) Mmes. Richard McKenzie, Lloyd Todd (back view), Leroy Dufur, Tom Bordonaro, Wm. Stowers and Phil Wright (seated).

Added to the decor this year will be large five foot tall wine bottles filled with over sized roses beside each of the columns at the C.V. Golf and Country Club. By the same token it will be the last appearance of the gigantic wine bottle which has always been a focal point at the Ball.

Flower-power on Wednesday was furnished by Mmes. William Stowers, Richard McKenzie, Gary Kitt, Tom Bordonaro, Leroy Dufur, Art Fosso, John Black, Phil Wright and Lloyd Todd.

"Sure, and may there be a road before you and it bordered with Roses, the likes of which have ne'er been smelt or seen before, for the warm fine color and the great sweetness that is on them..." an old Irish blessing bestowed on each of you by the Carmel Valley Lions and their ladies who cordially invite you to join them on the 28th for their annual February gala.

SPEAKING OF "those days of Wine and Roses" brings to mind Bob Parrett who with his wife, Thelma, have frequently come from Los Altos to support Valley activities and seldom miss the Wine and Roses Ball. Bob just recently underwent surgery for the forty-third time and is a patient in Room 229 Ward 2B at Stanford Hospital in Palo Alto. Cards may reach him there.

THE VALENTINE FLAVOR of hearts and flowers dominated the decorating scheme of Mrs. Irving Ollason, hostess of the February Bridge and Canasta party sponsored by the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild. During the dessert and coffee hour at Fellowship Hall, Luella and her assistant hostesses served raspberry Bisque, a delicious endorsement for the recipes to be found in the new Valley Fare Cookbook sold by the Guild. Martha Huff was high winner in bridge with second in bridge going to Dortha Edwards. Canasta winners were Mary Walls in first place and Elsie Siemens in second. Miniature nosegays in small vases were presented as table prizes to Dorothy Chappell, Sally Dane, Sara Oppenheimer, Maxine Hildebrandt, Beverly Sinclair, Jane Korver, Jenny Clark and Bertha Hildebrandt. The party next month will be held on the 18th with Neva Meyers as hostess. All ladies who enjoy cards especially new residents are invited to phone reservations to Helen Fitch (bridge) 659-4207 and for canasta, Vera Stokes, 659-4286.

ALL THE KING'S HORSES and all the king's men ..... couldn't have put together a nicer birthday celebration than the one Mrs. Tim Condon gave for her daughter, Karen last week at their home on Garzas Road. Humpty Dumpty set the theme for the three year old's party with everything from the cake to take-home bean bag favors designed after the Nursery's favorite egg-head. Mothers attending with their small fry were Mrs. Daryl Jewett, Mike and Colin; Mrs. Edward Dalton, Julie and Brian; Mrs. Sal Verde and Susan and Mrs. Richard Falge, with Katie, Mike and Gregory.

TULARCITOS BASKETBALL LEAGUE RESULTS

The Tularcitos Basketball League moved into the 6th week of play with the Sharpshooters downing the Pistons 32-18. High point men for the Sharpshooters were Greg Miller, Laurent Longfellow, David Fogelmanis and David McKenzie. The offensive thrust of the Pistons was provided by Bill Neidinger, and Paul Fern.

In the heat of competition, occasionally a player will become disoriented and shoot at the other team's basket. This was seen during last Saturdays play. Rogan Hattan and Laurent Longfellow scored four points for their opponents.

This Saturday the Pistons are pitted against the Rockets and the league leading Sharpshooters will battle the Bullets.

FEBRUARY ACTIVITIES for Carmel Valley Gray-Wolves have been numerous and exciting according to their leader Bob Hebert. Eighteen boys accompanied by eight Dads drove to Badger Pass for a weekend in the snow. They occupied three beautiful cabins at the Wawona Redwood Station located at the 5000 foot level. In perfect weather they spent a Saturday on a hill coasting on inner-tubes (no skiers allowed) with 100 Gray-Y boys and their fathers. All those healthy appetites were catered to by the dads who also served as chefs. They included Dick McKenzie, Tom Bordonaro, Paul Neilsen, Bob Hebert, and Mal Tavares. Boys making the snow trip were Mike Colburn, Tim Neilsen, Carl Fosso, David McKenzie, George Lockwood, Jr., Ben Olsen, Darryl Espinosa, James Hebert, Ron Neilsen and Chris Jones.

Coming activities include a weekend trip to Lake Sequoia in the High Sierras, a train trip to San Francisco for the day including a visit to the zoo, and a weekend camp out at Lake San Antonio. All of these good times are made possible by the Monterey Peninsula YMCA which provides the incentive for the boys and their parents to work together as a team.

With the fund drive currently in progress, this is your opportunity to invest in Valley youth who will be the responsible citizens and leaders of tomorrow. The Monterey YMCA is not covered by the Community Chest so donations are their only source of operating funds. Won't you mail them to Monterey Peninsula YMCA 529 Polk St., Monterey?

Each year during impressive candlelight ceremonies boys are given an opportunity to renew their pledge to be a better citizen. This year's induction ceremony was held recently at the Hebert home. Doug Sprague, general secretary of the Monterey Peninsula YMCA presented each boy with membership cards for the coming year.

Officers for 1970 will be Bill Rammel, president; Dennis Tavares, vice president; Ronnie Trout, secretary; Steve Rammel, treasurer and John Mirani, sergeant at arms.

CUB SCOUTS of Pack 76 celebrated the 60th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America with their traditional Blue and Gold Banquet held in the Tularcitos Multipurpose Room. Two hundred parents, families and friends of the four Valley Cub Scout Dens and Webelos attended the Potluck Dinner and Diamond Jubilee celebration. The night had also been designated as "Genius Night". Each Cub at the beginning of the month was given a Genius bag of scrap materials (buttons, berry baskets, pipe cleaners, etc.) from which they were to construct something. The clever imaginative sattelites, Stanley steamers, covered wagons, etc. were used as table center pieces for the banquet and judged by various visiting dignitaries with each boy receiving a ribbon and prize for his accomplishment.

Other awards made by Cubmaster Don Draper and Ken Jones, an assistant from the District Council Office in Salinas, included:

NINE SCHOLARSHIPS to Carmel High School students and a sum of money to the American Field Service were the results of last year's "Bargain Fair" conducted by the Padre Parents.

The Second Annual Fair will be held Saturday, March 14 in the Carmel High School Gym, 9:00 to 3:30.

Needed for sale at the Fair are items for the following sections: Clothing, Arts and Crafts, Plants, Books and Records, Jewelry, Toys and Sporting Equipment, Furniture and all kinds of clean, salable rummage.

A phone call to Mrs. Gene Vandevort 624-8801 or Mrs. John Simpson 624-9243 will privide pick-up service for any donations. Upper Valley collection point is the C.V. General Store or call 659-2468 and they will be called for promptly.

Promises of baked goods for the bake sale at the Fair may be made to Mrs. Richard Sippell 624-1788. Plants will be picked up by Mrs. Tor Spindler 624-6109.

"PRACTICAL APPLICATION of the Laws of Learning at Home" is the topic chosen by Dr. Gene England of the Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing when he addresses the Carmelo Parents Club at their March 10 meeting to begin at 7:30 p.m. Baby sitting will be provided and all parents are cordially invited to attend.

xxx

A PILGRIMAGE to the house in Serra Village where his family made their home at the time of his birth was part of Tod Gayman's fifth birthday celebration. The home conveniently unoccupied was explored by Tod and his guests who returned to the Gayman home on Paso Hondo where his mother, Mrs. Richard Gayman assisted by Tod's brother, Brett, had planned gifts, games, prizes and chocolate birthday cupcakes. A long distance call brought special wishes from his father who was in Los Angeles on business. Attending were Raymond Cloyd, Ashley Swanson, Pamela Gayman, Michael Cloyd, and Tod's brother Scott.

"AN OLD OAK LEAF CLUSTER" to Porter Marquard Realty Co. who have signed as sponsors for the C.V. Little League Farm Team known in years past as The Cubs. It is the first time this group of boys (winners year before last of the pennant) have ever had a sponsor.

Everyone is urged to attend the Little League meeting scheduled for March 4, Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. in the Multipurpose room of Tularcitos. Suggestions ... old, new and particularly those successfully tried in other areas ... will be welcomed. Remember, you do not have to have a boy involved in order to work with Little League.

CARMEL VALLEY WOMEN'S CLUB TO HAVE EASTER PROGRAM ON MARCH 4

Ladies will have an opportunity to wear their prettiest Spring chapeaus on March 4 at 12:15 when the Carmel Valley Women's Club officially greets the Easter Season at the Community Center. Mrs. Gordon Brown and Mrs. Gordon Harlander, co-chairmen who selected the Easter theme, invite all members and their guests to wear their Easter bonnets.

A special program will be presented by the Drama and Musical Group from the Naval Post Graduate School. Under the direction of Cmdr. J.C.Hale a preview of the musical "Brigadoon" to be presented at the Post Grad School in April will be given.

CVPOA LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR MORE THAN 1,000 MEMBERS

A membership drive is underway by the Carmel Valley Property Owner's Association.

Mrs. Joan Morris is the chairman for the campaign, which seeks to push the membership considerably above the one thousand mark.

The organization, headed by Ed Lee, is now preparing for the next hearing on the Hillside Conservation amendment to the county zoning ordinance, which will again be considered by the County Board of Supervisors at Salinas on March 24.

The CVPOA seeks to further tighten the zoning amendments which have been approved by the County Planning Commission, which at its latest hearing turned down all the changes recommended by the CVPOA, even though the supervisors had asked it to reconsider.

Last week the CVPOA went on record as opposing an application by Thomas Gamboa to build 52 apartment units on 8 acres near the Carmel Middle School in the Lower Valley. The Lower Valley Advisory Committee had also recommended a denial of the application.

Both opposed the application because it represents spot zoning and because there is other land in the area where zoning would not require a variance for such a development.

Welcome.

It takes a lot of land, a lot of lakes, a lot of rivers, a lot of snow, a lot of mountains and a lot of valleys to make a lot of electricity. Beautiful places. And we keep them that way. For everyone.

And we add facilities for your enjoyment. PG&E campgrounds have tables, benches, stoves, restrooms, refuse containers and water.

You can catch a fish, sail a boat, sing a song, watch a bird, do a dance, have a picnic, enjoy the big outdoors. Make yourself at home.

CHERYL LEE HALL

June wedding in Carmel Valley

Dr. and Mrs. A. Lee Hall have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Lee, to Dr. David J. Harris of Menlo Park.

The engagement was announced at a family gathering on Valentine's Day.

Miss Hall, a graduate of U.C.L.A. with a B.S. degree in nursing, is head nurse of the intensive care nursery at Stanford University Hospital. She is the sister of Mrs. Hillard H. Hinson of Houston, Texas, and Gary, Gregory, Kevin and Arthur Lee Hall, Jr. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ray L. Aldridge of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Dr. Harris is a post doctoral fellow in pediatrics at Stanford University Hospital. He was graduated cum laude from Oberlin College and received his M.D. degree from the University of Rochester Medical School. His parents are Mrs. Abraham J. Harris of Auburndale, Mass., and the late Dr. Abraham Harris.

A June wedding is planned at the home of the bride-to-be's parents, 51 La Rancheria, Carmel Valley.

CARMEL LIONS CLUB STUDENT SPEAKERS CONTEST MARCH 3

The Carmel Lions Club will launch local students on the first of six possible steps to a $2000 winning scholarship or one of three $750 scholarships for other finalists.

The topis for this year is "Generation Gap" - Fact or Fantasy? Three speakers from Carmel High School and three from Robert Louis Stevenson School will give their views on this timely subject.

Come and get a considered mirror glimpse of yourself! Date: Tuesday, March 3rd. Time: 7:30 p.m. Place: Brey Hall at Carmel High School. Refreshments will be served after the contest by the Lions and their ladies.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB TO HEAR 2 LOCAL ARTISTS

An afternoon with two artists is planned for the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m. Mary Jane Spence is director and curator of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art, an artist whose works have won many awards in the San Francisco Bay area and on the Monterey Peninsula.

William F. Stone is head of the art department at Carmel High School. His paintings and collages have been exhibited in the various galleries of the Monterey Peninsula. He participates in the activities of the Pacific Grove Museum and the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art. Mr. Stone and Mrs. Spence have titled their discussion "Two Artists -- Three Viewpoints."

Following the program tea will be served with Mrs. George X. Crusselle, Mrs. Davenport Denbo, Mr. J. Randolph Kennedy and Mrs. Raymond F. Taylor presiding at the tea tables.

SECOND FASHION SHOW LUNCHEON TO BE HELD TUESDAY AT CVG&CC

The second in the new series of fashion show luncheons, "Fashion Signs of the Zodiac" will be given next Tuesday at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, in the main clubhouse, at 12:30.

The show will be produced and presented by Dorothy Dean Stevens, and will feature apparel from the Club's Golf and Resort Shop. Peter Medina, teacher of Yoga classes, will give a talk on the practice of Yoga.

This presentation will honor the sign of Pisces. There will be complimentary birthday cocktails and birthday gift drawings for those whose sign is Pisces. About 250 women attended the February show. Nine more are scheduled for the first Tuesday of each month, all based on "Astrology for the 20th Century" -- with a theme, "It's a good sign!"

'EASTER FANTASYLAND' PLANNED IN CARMEL ON MARCH 14 AND 15

A trip into an Easter Fantasyland on March 14 and 15 will be staged by Mother Goose Chapter of The Children's Home Society. Time is 11 to 4, when a shuttle bus leaving Sunset Center in Carmel will transport children and mothers to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker in Carmel where the Fantasyland will be presented.

On Friday, March 13 a special Bunny Bash preview for grownups is planned from 7 to 9 p.m. with entertainment, dancing to Joe Tick, buffet and no host cocktails. Catch the shuttle bus from Carmel Plaza Parking Lot. Tickets are $3.75 per person for the Bunny Bash and 50 cents for children for the Fantasyland. They may be obtained from any Mother Goose Chapter member or at the Fantasyland or by phoning 375-8960 or 372-2421.

CARMEL'S VILLAGE THEATRE will present a special one-week showing of new film version of Uncle Tom's Cabin. Boasting a professional cast of many, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" features 33 International stars including Juliette Greco, Herbert Lom, John Kitzmiller as Uncle Tom. The film, playing for the first time on the Monterey Peninsula will begin showing on March 4 and run through March 10.

CEREMONY WAS SOLEMN YET NOISY AT THE FOUNDING OF MONTEREY

"We lifted it together" wrote Father Serra, in describing the raising of the cross in the impressive ceremony founding Monterey 200 years ago, on June 3, 1770.

"The altar was set up under the same oak beneath which Viscaino's chaplains had celebrated Mass 167 years before.

"Everyone arrived singing, while the bells hung from the old tree were ringing at full peal ... I sprinkled holy water over the level ground surrounding the cross. At each new rite the bells would ring, the soldiers would fire their guns, the San Antonio would discharge a volley from its cannon (and) the colors of our Catholic Sovereign (Carlos III) were set floating in the breeze, amid repeated cries of 'Long live the faith! Long live the King!'"

In honor of this historical founding ceremony, the Old Monterey Bicentennial Committee has had beautiful bronze and silver medallions struck off in various sizes and prices. They are available at financial institutions and other places of business throughout Monterey County.

Bob, the top rated polo player in the U.S. will team with Peter Vought, Aspen Colorado, John Wallop, Big Horn, Wyoming, and the East Bay's Vic Graber at Pebble Beach on March 8 to compete against a highly rated British team in a top goal international polo event.

INTERNATIONAL POLO RETURNS TO PEBBLE BEACH ON MARCH 8

Top goal international polo returns to Pebble Beach on Sunday, March 8, when the English team led by the Marquis of Waterford and Lord Edmund Fermoy opposes a west coast squad captained by the Santa Barbara Polo Club's Bob Skene.

Riding with the Marquis will be his brother, Lord Patrick Beresford. Nigel Corbally-Stourton is the fourth member of the combined British-Irish team. Waterford and Beresford were long-time mainstays of Prince Philip's Windsor Castle team.

With Skene, who was a member of the last British team to play here in 1939 at the old Hotel Del Monte, will be Peter Vought, Aspen, Colorado, John Wallop, Big Horn, Wyoming, and the east Bay's Vic Graber. All now play for the Santa Barbara Club.

The match, according to Pebble Beach Equestrian director Richard Collins will bring together two teams of equal ability - about 15 goals each, with Skene top rated at 10 goals.

Prior to arriving at Pebble Beach, the British team will play in Hawaii.

PLAN SPECIAL FUND TO AID MONTEREY COUNTY SYMPHONY

The Monterey County Symphony is not self-supporting at present, but a special fund could help make it so, is the belief of Robert Stanton, the Association's president.

In a recent statement of appreciation for the widening community support for the Symphony, Stanton called attention to the Capital Fund of this non-profit organization.

"Donations to this fund are tax-deductible" he explained. "They can be made in the name of the donor, or in the name of a deceased relative or friend. This type of donation is particularly appropriate when given in the memory of individuals who have loved music in their lifetime. However, it also may act as a statement by the donor of his own personal preference. This is often done in memorial gifts to medical or charitable foundations. This type of gift is generally replacing such transitory memorials as floral gifts."

Mr. Stanton further explained that the Symphony's Capital Fund would not be used for day-to-day operating expenses. The object is to maintain the Fund for long range investment, using only the accruing interest. At present the Fund is small, but if it can be built up through memorials and other donations, it could then be invested and reinvested in the same manner as other well-known foundation funds, thus producing a self-sufficient financial base.

Since the Symphony is a community cultural endeavor, admission prices have been kept as low as possible. Ticket revenues supply only one third of the Symphony's operating costs. So, a number of yearly fund-raising campaigns are required, to help make up the deficits. For example, the successful Oriental Art Show in January, sponsored by the Peninsula Chapter of the Symphony Guild was a one time event that brought in additional, welcome funds.

All memorials and contributors are listed in the Symphony's concert programs, and all contributions are tax-deductible when made payable to the Monterey County Symphony Association. Contributors should send checks to P.O. Box 3851, in Carmel, or contact Mr. Stanton directly for further information regarding memorials, bequests or other donations to the Symphony's Capital Fund.

ISLAND OF SAN GIORGIO MAGGIORE - From: Thayer Soule's "Venice & The Italian Lakes".

'VENICE AND THE ITALIAN LAKES' TO BE SHOWN MAR. 6

Thayer Soule, well known travel and adventure film producer, will appear in person at 8:15 p.m. Friday, March 6, at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel to narrate his award winning 2-hour color travel and adventure film "Venice and the Italian Lakes". The program is part of the current Explorama Series which is sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco.

Thayer Soule is a native of Rochester, New York, and has been producing travel and adventure films since he graduated from Harvard University in 1939. For some twenty years he was production assistant to Burton Holmes, the man who coined the word "travelogue". In World War II, Lt. Col. Soule was in charge of all Marine Corps photography in the South Pacific Area. He landed at Guadal-canal and later headed another photography unit at Iwo Jima where he won the Bronze Star.

His journeys through the years have taken him more than a million miles and into seventy different countries. He spent six months on location in Italy during the production of "Venice and the Italian Lakes". The film is primarily a human interest study of the people who live in Venice today. Additional highlights include the City of Milan, the Italian Alps and the beautiful Italian Lakes.

YEGG JOLT ... Right-hand gunsel (Richard Bakalyan) hits the brakes in an attempt to avoid a collision as mob chieftain (Cesar Romero) and assistant hoods (Fabian Dean, right and Bing Russell) are jolted from their seats during a wild chase scene from Walt Disney Productions' turned-on comedy course in campus calamity, "The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes," starring Kurt Russell, Romero and Joe Flynn and co-starring William Schallert, Alan Hewitt, Bakalyan and Debbie Paine. In color by Technicolor, "The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes" opens Wednesday at the Valley Cinema.

AUTHOR THEODORE ROSZAK, center, talks with Jim Smith at the Thunderbird after appearing at a "Meet the Author" seminar. Copies of Roszak's book, "The Making of a Counter Culture" are on the counter. Joining in the conversation is Mrs. Nancy Rushmer, who plans the monthly informal gatherings along with Mrs. Doreen Bussinger.

THEODORE ROSZAK, AUTHOR, SPEAKS IN CARMEL VALLEY

BY PATRICIA GRIFFITH

Thesis: the great industrial-technological revolution of the 20th century has been a social experiment of unprecedented scope.

Thesis: this social experiment has failed.

This was the proposition history professor Theodore Roszak, author of "The Making of a Counter-Culture" set before 65 people at the Thunderbird's second author's seminar last week.

Roszak argued that modern man considers himself "progressing" only as his life becomes more "artificial" with products, machines and patterns of thought that insulate him from his environment.

"We have come to regard industrialism not as an experiment, which has been with man only for about 180 years, but as a manifest destiny. There is no other life," he said.

"There is a vision many people see of the future of making the world around us completely man-controlled. It strikes me this is the greatest turning point the human race has ever gone through," he continued.

"The question seems to be how do we get the world as industrialized and artificialized as rapidly as possible, and how do you push it as far as possible?

"This is a kind of life in which we like to think we become more human and free, but we really don't. Things become necessities, not conveniences. And if you can't break out of the pattern, you're not free."

Roszak said that the farther man moves into his artificial world, the more every-day decisions are decided by scientists, technicians and experts who have a personal stake in furthering technology.

"When we live in an artificial environment, our consciousness grows out of a scientific world view," Roszak said. "We may practice Yoga for 15 minutes in the morning, but when we make decisions that count, we try to stick as close as possible to rationality, and this is the rationality of the scientists and technicians.

"When we're trying to solve a serious problem in the community, we don't bring in poets, painters or religious visionaries because we don't think they're relevant."

And yet, Roszak observed, down through history these are precisely the people who have been highly respected and listened to.

"Today we find, as we become more comfortable and secure, we are cutting ourselves off from whole aspects of our personality that have been very important and very creative in the past," he explained.

"This is what holds together youthful dissent, the counter-culture, which is a very loose spirit of the times that takes issue with the orthodoxy that prevails in a highly organized society. It concerns itself with that aspect of the personality that must be cut out."

Roszak said this is why Eastern religions, astrology, personality-altering drugs, art, music, and poetry are especially popular within the counter-culture.

He contended that young dissenters, with whom he identifies, are "profoundly conservative, not revolutionary."

His own politics and world view, he said, "goes back to the neolithic village and a state of life much saner and more culturally profound than what we have now."

Roszak considers the failure of the industrial revolution self-evident in the present environmental crisis and the development and use of weapons of mass destruction.

When asked what he saw as most likely in the future, he answered: "Either total ecological collapse or thermonuclear war.

"I have friends who are biologists," he added, "who tell me we only have 35 years of atmosphere left, because we are destroying the plankton in the oceans. If that's true, then we will just destroy ourselves."

Roszak agreed there is no way to turn off the industrial revolution, but he does think it is possible to "scale down our technology and go forward in a different style ... go forward with a strong suspicion of our artificial environment and a strong desire to scale it down."

He further suggested that scientists and technicians should speak with "real humility" and an awareness that their viewpoint is just one of many.

"Wordsworth knew more about nature than the biologist," he declared. "He knew it addresses you, it lives, it had divinity. If you don't know that, you don't know anything."

CLOUDS OF SMOKE BRING MANY PROTESTS FROM VALLEY RESIDENTS

The Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club decided to burn an accummulation of trimmings last weekend, and before the job was done dozens of people had called the Carmel Valley Fire Department in alarm or protest.

Fire Chief Chip Collins said he received more than 40 calls Saturday, most of them from persons complaining about the air pollution resulting from the great billowing clouds of smoke.

Unfortunately, there was nothing Collins could do about it.

The Trail and Saddle Club's property is excluded from the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District, which means they are covered by the State Division of Forestry fire station at Carmel Hill. Club officials had obtained a burning permit from the forestry service.

Collins said the "controlled burn" was stopped Sunday because there were so many complaints.

The fire department did answer three fire calls last week. The first came on Thursday at 12:45 p.m., when a dryer at the home of Mrs. Maryann Yuma at 6 Esquiline Rd. caught on fire. There was no damage to the house.

On Friday the fire department answered a false alarm call on El Cuenco. And on Sunday at 3:46 p.m. they were called to the Plaza Linda Restaurant when a passer-by noticed a candle had been left burning and had shattered an ash tray and burned the table cloth. The smouldering fire was quickly extinguished.

IT'S ILLEGAL TO FIRE ANY KIND OF WEAPON IN CARMEL VALLEY

Carmel Valley hunters of all ages have been reminded that it is illegal to fire any type of weapon within the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District.

According to an ordinance passed in 1956, it is a misdemeanor to shoot a rifle, shot gun, pistol, B-B gun or sling shot anywhere in the district.

The only exceptions are for peace officers, persons using an approved target range or farmers and ranchers with permits to shoot animals endangering their crops or livestock.

Violators are subject to a $300 fine or 90 days in jail or both.

YES, THIS IS A HOME!! Squalid quarters like this is "home" for two-thirds of the world's population. Condemned to live in fetid slums, poverty-stricken and disease-ridden, their future is bleak. In this time of great human needs, you can lend a helping hand by donating to the annual American Catholic Overseas Aid Fund Appeal, March 1 to 8. This fund provides the basic support for Catholic Relief Services, overseas aid and development agency of American Catholics. Thousands of impoverished families like this one receive food, clothing and medical supplies through the global distribution facilities of Catholic Relief Services. It is the beginning of a new future with a ray of hope. We ask your help during the week of March 1 to 8. Send your contributions to your nearest Catholic church or to Catholic Overseas Aid Fund, Empire State Building, New York, N.Y. 10001.

Trail & Saddle Club News

Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club, Inc. was started by a small group of people interesting in preserving and obtaining trails for riding and hiking in Carmel Valley. At first the members spent most of their time obtaining permission and marking and clearing trails. The original shows were mostly gymkhanas and playdays with the first Annual Show being held in the arena behind Los Laureles Lodge.

This show consisted of about fifty riders and all entry fees were 50 cents. Breakfast rides, overnight rides and barn dances were held regularly.

The club was incorporated in October of 1959 and became a member of C.S.H.A. in January of 1957 when Tom Johnson of Region 6 personally presented them with their certificate of membership. From the start, it was the dream of the members to own their own property. Finally, in April of 1959 they purchased their present property on East Garzas Rd. Then began the long job of improving their 16.4 acres.

Weekends were spent with every man, woman and child in the club moving rocks, digging post holes, hammering nails and running trucks and tractors. In addition to the efforts of the members, many services were rendered by the valley businesses and interested residents.

Bleachers, announcer's stand, snack bar, rest rooms, children's play area and a barbeque and picnic grounds have been added in addition to the two arenas.

The annual show was designed to have something for everyone and to be a grand finale to the summer season. The club looks forward every year to renewing old friendships with the contestants who have supported them from the start and to adding new friends to the ever growing list. This year will be their fifteenth Annual Show. Date - Sept. 5th & 6th.

Horsemanship for Juniors is one of the prime interests of the club.

Youngsters from babies through 17 participate in the award series each year, the Richard Warmington trophy being presented to the most improved rider. Clinics are held throughout the year for these Juniors and the results are amazing.

Innaugurated last year, The Spring Show. This year the Spring Show will be held on March 15th. Everyone is eager to bring out their horses ... a trial run for the season about to start. It will be a C.S.H.A. & Region Six High Point awards show which will include Western, English, and the popular Gymkhana races ... an exciting day for exhibitors and the ever welcome spectators. Reserve this date, March 15; if it rains, March 29.

Mal Tavares in 'satisfactory condition' after suffering critical burns

Mal Tavares, Carmel Valley's popular Vangas deliveryman and perennial Santa Claus, is in satisfactory condition at Monterey Hospital after being severely burned in an accident at For Ord Friday afternoon.

Tavares is in isolation in the intensive care unit, with second and third degree burns on his face, back, arms and chest.

A hospital spokesman said he will not be allowed visitors for sometime, because of the extreme risk of infection. No flowers are allowed in his room, either, and the hospital suggests that well-wishers send cards or letters, which will be read to him.

The freak accident occurred shortly after 2:30 p.m. Friday at the construction site of the new Fort Ord Hospital on Gigling Road.

According to Art Noble, area manager of Pajaro Vangas, Tavares was servicing a tank at the construction site when a small hose belonging to the C.L. Frost Roofing Co. of Monterey broke loose and began whipping around in the air.

Noble said Tavares grabbed the hose, which was spewing out raw propane gas, and was trying to turn off the gas from the truck, when something ignited the gas and he was enveloped in flames.

A workman with the roofing company, Frank Goulart of Del Rey Oaks, tore the burning clothes off Tavares and rolled him on the ground to extinguish the fire. Goulart suffered burned hands, but was not hospitalized.

"A report that our truck exploded is totally false," Noble said. "All of our equipment held. Nothing of ours ruptured. The automatic lock-off on the truck functioned, and only our hose burned. In fact our truck is back in service."

Noble added that Tavares, who has worked for the company for more than 15 years, is well experienced in all phases of the job, and said: "I am sure if he thought that there was even the slightest danger, he wouldn't have started to fill the tank."

He said the asphalt melting kettle had been shut down before servicing began.

A nurse in the intensive care unit said it is too soon to tell how long Tavares will be kept in isolation. It is likely he will be hospitalized for several weeks.

Tavares has long been a familiar sight driving his big red, white and blue truck up and down Carmel Valley, greeting passing motorists with a wave and a smile. He is an active member of the Lions Club and has been involved in numerous youth activities. The Tavares home is a 7 El Camino Road.

THE TOWN CRIER

DONALD A. THOMAS of Carmel has joined those seeking the position of Superior Court Judge. Formerly of Orland, he has since 1965 served as a deputy district attorney for Monterey County. For two years he was district attorney of Glenn County.

"Because of my record of public service, familiarity with civil and criminal law, and my extensive experience as a trial attorney, I believe I have the balance and maturity of judgment required of a Superior Court Judge," he stated in announcing his candidacy.

xxx

NEW MEMBERS WHO HAVE JOINED the Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club include Mr. and Mrs. E.A.Etherton, Mrs. Nancy E. Rushmer and Miss Sallie L. Witter of Carmel Valley.

xxx

VINCENT PRICE, scheduled to speak at the Town Hall Lecture Series Friday night, has cancelled his talk here because of a conflict of dates.

xxx

MRS MONTE HARRINGTON of Carmel has been selected Monterey County Women's Chairman of 'Californians for Murphy'. The organization is supporting the re-election of U.S. Senator George Murphy. Steve Magyar is Monterey county chairman. Mrs. Harrington was active in the campaigns of President Nixon, Gov. Ronald Reagan and Assemblyman Bob Wood.

xxx

ROBERT A. BANNISTER of Carmel has announced plans to retire after 31 years with PG&E. For the past 17 years he has been steam superintendent for the firm's Coast Valleys Division, with offices at the Moss Landing Power Plant. At present he is on sick leave while convalescing from a recent illness. After his retirement he and his wife will tour the East, and make a trip to Ireland and Wales, homeland of their parents.

xxx

LANCE CROOKS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Crooks of 44 Lupin Lane, Carmel Valley, made the Dean's List during the fall term at the University of the Pacific, Stockton. Lance, a graduate of Carmel High School, is a sophomore taking a pre-dentistry course.

xxx

MONTEREY COUNTY JURY COMMISSIONER Ernest A. Maggini of Salinas has announced his candidacy for County Clerk-Recorder in the June 2 primary election.

Maggini, 38, the county's jury commissioner since 1956, is bidding to succeed Emmet G. ("Mister Mac") McMenamin, who is retiring when his current term expires in January.

"I have been encouraged and frankly, urged to run by many friends from all parts of Monterey County," Maggini said, "I believe that the retirement of Mr. Mac creates an opportunity for advancement in public service to the county for which I believe I am qualified."

SUPERVISOR WILLARD BRANSON wasn't just kidding when he said last week that the dam-water problem "is going to have more public exposure than any project I know of." He has 18 speaking engagements on his calendar right now, and he plans to talk about water at all of them. One might say he is turned on about the whole thing.

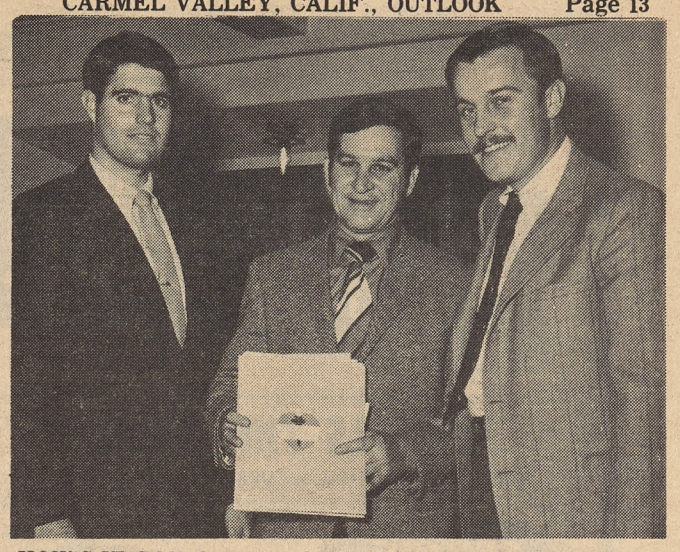
CARMEL REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO HEAR MRS. ALICE LEOPOLD

The Carmel Republican Women's Clubs general meeting and luncheon will be held at the La Playa Hotel in Carmel on Tuesday March 3.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. Alice Leopold, former assistant to the Secretary of Labor under Pres. Eisenhower. She has been a member of the California Republican Central Committee and is listed in Who's Who. The title of her talk is "Republican Responsibility".

The luncheon, at $3.00 including tip and tax, is served at 12:30 with a social hour preceeding at 11:30.

Reservations may be made by March 2 by calling Mrs. V.B. Stoneson 624-2941 or Mrs. H.R. Fonseca 624-2398 and for transportation please call Mrs. Perry Boggess 624-8261, ext. 227.



HOW'S IT GOING? -- Leaders of the Heart Fund Business Division now holding its collection got together recently to check results. Pictured (left to right) are Gary List, Monterey City Chairman of "Heart Days for Business," James A. Stewart, Monterey, Business Chairman for the three counties of Monterey, Santa Cruz and San Benito; and Chris Spaulding, Chairman for the Carmel area. The overall campaign continues through this weekend when the annual Heart Sunday door-to-door collection will be held.

CACHAGUA ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBERS ARE RE-APPOINTED

Members of the Cachagua Advisory Committee to the Monterey County Planning Commission have all been reappointed to 3-year terms expiring January, 1973.

They are Sean Flavin, Jack Swanson, Harold Steinmetz, Rex White and Mike Elliott.

At its last meeting, the Planning Commission also acted favorably on two design approvals. One was for a sign at the Carriage House on Carmel Valley Road, the other for a dwelling for Donald Meharry at the Carmel Valley Golf & Country Club.

Bank of America pays you more for playing it safe.

We've raised the rates on Personal Choice Savings. So besides having many plans to choose from, you now make more money. Of course, there's another benefit, too. Security. When you save with us, your money enjoys the safety of the world's largest bank. And that counts a lot.

4½% Regular Savings.
Your interest has been increased to 4½%, computed daily and compounded quarterly. This is our most popular savings plan because it's so flexible. You can put money in. Take it out. Any time, any amount. Deposits made by the tenth of each quarter earn interest from the first.

5% Investors Passbook.
This is the passbook account that pays you more for leaving your money with us for at least 90 days. The 5% annual interest is compounded quarterly. $500 opens an account. Additional deposits are made in $100 amounts or more.

5¾% Certificates of Deposit.
We've lowered the entrance requirements and raised the rate on maturities of one year or longer. Two-year Certificates now earn 5¾% annually, and are issued for $500 or multiples of $500. One-year Certificates now pay you 5½% annually.

7½% Certificates of Deposit.
Large deposits—$100,000 or more—now earn 7½% if left with us a year. The annual interest rates on these Certificates range from 6¼% to 7½% depending on their maturity. These represent an increase of ¾% to 1¼% over previous rates.

We think good money sense means a savings account at Bank of America. You avoid risk. And you increase earnings. Drop in at your nearest branch. They'll not only help you with the business of living—they'll show you how to make it pay.

SPECIAL LENTEN SERVICES PLANNED AT ST. DUNSTAN'S

On Sunday Hugh Smith, a member of the Sierra Club will give a talk with slides at St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church at both the 9:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. Services, on the forests of the Monterey Peninsula. On March 18th, Supervisor Willard Branson will speak on the Conservation of Water on the Monterey Peninsula.

The overall title for the study program is "Creation and Conservation" and will consist of a rediscovery of the order of creation expressed in the Old and New Testaments, the disregard for order through sins of overpopulation, pollution, and dehumanization as well as the destruction of our natural environment, and the solution of these problems through the preservation and restoration of our natural resources.

The young people in the congregation have formulated plans, and initiated projects to aid in the conservation program. They are also assisting in the worship services this lenten season by ushering, serving at the Altar, reading the lessons and singing in the choir.

TWO FACE CHARGES FOR ENTERING HOME IN CARMEL VALLEY

Two young men will appear for a preliminary hearing in Monterey Municipal Court on March 5 on charges of larceny and damaging a private home in Carmel Valley.

Ronald J. Kimbrough, 22, of Oakland, and Jerry Hill, 22, of San Francisco, were originally charged with burglary of the Schulte Road home owned by Campbell H. McIntyre of El Cerrito. They have pleaded not guilty to the two lesser charges.

At the time of their arrest, Feb. 10, the men were also charged with auto theft. This charge has been dropped on a motion by a deputy district attorney for lack of evidence.

The pair are free on $1250 bail.

BOB WOOD REPORTS. . .

A REGULAR COLUMN BY BOB WOOD, ASSEMBLYMAN - 34TH DISTRICT

Even though I find myself back in the hospital as of this writing for a second go around with a slight pneumonia bug, by the time you read this article (if you do read it) I should be back in Sacramento tending to the business of our people in Monterey County.

The next time the doctor says stay in bed and don't return to work until you are completely well, I will take him more seriously. They say trial and error is a great teacher. I think I have learned my lesson by making the error.

You have read quite a bit about the controversial conflict of interest bill concerning elected public officials. This bill was authored by Assemblyman Jess Unruh, presently a candidate for Governor, in 1969 and it was approved by both Democratic and Republican parties. Basically, the new law requires public officials, ranging from city councilmen and water district directors to the Governor and State Supreme Court Justices, to disclose any investment of $10,000 or more, in a business regulated by the State or a local agency, along with a full financial statement.

The bill apparently has not done what it was intended to do and every legislator has received nothing but complaints about the possible repercussions from such a bill.

The bill was approved in April of last year and I didn't arrive in Sacramento until last June. Therefore, I am glad to say I had nothing to do with its passage.

One of the major complaints about the new bill is that it applies the same blanket provision to local public officers, many of whom serve without compensation of any kind, as it does to high ranking State officials. It is hard enough to find willing, competent candidates for these low or non-paying offices without subjecting individuals to a full disclosure of their financial assets no matter how irrelevant to their elective position.

The Carmel City Council realized that it would raise havoc with our democratic system if competent men refused to accept everyday public obligations because they would be forced to list a personal financial statement before the public. Therefore, the Carmel City Council filed an appeal with the local Superior Court claiming unconstitutionality of the law. The Court ruled against the Council but the action passed through the Court of Appeals and is now being considered by the State Supreme Court.

When I was in Sacramento last week, between trips to the hospital, the proponents and opponents of the bill met head on. A bill was introduced by Assemblyman Chappie, a personal friend of mine and an Assemblyman whose district includes several mountain counties in the northeast part of our State. He proposed to extend the date of compliance with the bill to April 6th, thus giving the Assembly and Senate a chance to try and straighten out the difficulties in the original bill. Mr. Unruh vigorously debated on the floor that the bill should be enacted as now written and Mr. Monagan, Speaker of the Assembly, argued just as vigorously for postponement. The end result shows the power of the people. Only 10 legislators voted with Mr. Unruh. Fifty-eight voted to extend it to see if a better bill couldn't be written by April 6th.

Too many legislators, Republican and Democratic alike, had heard from the hundreds of elected officials throughout the State who are not satisfied with the original bill and in this case political affiliation meant nothing. It was (I personally thing) democracy in action.

Enough for now ...

BOB WOOD

A simply marvelous selection of fine wines - for every taste, for every occasion. You'll find them only at the MEDITERRANEAN MARKET in the Del Monte Shopping Center in Monterey. Their selection of rare and delicate gourmet foods also makes their Delicatessen one of the most popular on the Peninsula.

Like a special taste treat? Try this special recipe for Scampi. It's something else! It's famous as the old Del Monte Hotel's chef's recipe 50 years ago, and is every bit as delightful today.

SCAMPI

1 to 1½ lbs. jumbo shrimp. 1 small clove garlic crushed. 2-to-3 tsps. finely chopped parsley. 1 cup Chablis or Sauterne, or Dry Sherry. 1 tbl. melted butter, salt, pepper, olive oil. Shell and devein shrimp, rinse shrimp and dry well. Rub baking dish with olive oil or butter. Flour shrimp, place close together in baking dish, salt and pepper. Mix separately finely chopped parsley, garlic, melted butter and tbl. olive oil and pour over shrimp. Bake uncovered at 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Then add 1 cup of wine or sherry, cook an additional 15 minutes until tender, golden brown and appear fluffy. Serve as side dish or main dish with crisp salad and rice.

The wonderful MEDITERRANEAN MARKET is open daily except Sundays, and until 9:30 p.m. Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays. Phone 373-0555. Free delivery.

Gladioli bulbs are still in plentiful supply at VALLEY HILLS NURSERY but very few other bare root plants are left. The weeks fly by, already bedding plants are beginning to come in! The art of gardening is mainly know-how and Dean Fair of VALLEY HILLS NURSERY has just this. Dean has been in the gardening business in this area over 10 years and is an expert as to what grows best here. He'll be interested in any questions you may have and will advise gladly. For all your gardening needs - VALLEY HILLS NURSERY - conveniently located on C.V. Road approximately 4 mi. east of Hwy. 1. Open 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily except Tuesday. Phone 624-3482.

TO THE EDITOR

Sirs:

Ho Hum! Another personal problem extended in a generalized attack on the local grammar school. (Letters to the Editor, February 18.) The use of a public forum rather than personal face-to-face problem solving with those able to help is always suspect. It is particularly galling when personal opinions are stated as fact, and facts are taken out of context to support an initially rather weak position. And the insinuation that the majority of parents at Tularcitos School are "chronically discontent" is erroneous.

Too many of us parents are too thankful for the way personal problems are handled and solved, and for the current outstanding program of individualized instruction at Tularcitos School to let the hollow accusations in last week's Outlook pass without comment.

TWO ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS IN CARMEL VALLEY LAST WEEK

Two persons were injured in separate auto accidents in Carmel Valley last week.

David Paul Akins, 685 Lily St., Monterey, suffered severe head, back and ankle injuries when his small car overturned on Robinson Canyon road.

He was driving north, downhill, about 50 miles an hour when he lost control of his car on a curve. He was thrown from the vehicle, which rolled over.

A Castroville woman was injured Saturday in an accident on Carmel Valley Road.

The California Highway Patrol said Maureen Jacobsen was westbound when her car crossed the center of the road on a sharp curve and sideswiped a car driven by Richard E. McBride of Salinas. He was not injured.

Miss Jacobsen was taken to the first aid station at the Carmel Valley Fire Department and then transferred to a local doctor's office for treatment of an injured ankle.

ArtCarved bridges the generation gap.

For six generations, more brides (and grooms) have chosen ArtCarved wedding bands than any other. There has to be a reason. There is. The ArtCarved styling and quality that makes today's mini-bride just as thrilled with her ring as her great-great-great-grandmother was. Today's bride has the advantage of choosing from a much larger selection of ArtCarved wedding rings and matching bands than those first ArtCarved brides. We have your ring. Now.
